Concept Note of the Course:

The way the educational scenario of the world is changing with the tremendous development of science and information technology, a rejuvenated approach equipped with innovative ideas & innovations has become a mandatory requirement to make teaching-learning process effective and result-giving. Innovative teaching is a proactive approach to integrate new strategies and methods into classrooms and beyond. Its primary objective is to encourage and engage the students more in the knowledge-acquiring process. A teacher tries his/her level best to disseminate knowledge in a learner-friendly manner by endeavouring to adopt appropriate method, so that the teaching stays alive and connect in the vein of fulfilling his/her objectives of teaching. The use of innovative teaching strategies has a potential to improve the entire education system and to strengthen the students' learning experience. Application of innovative methods not only breaks the monotony of this process, but also helps in applying the acquired knowledge in real life situation beyond any spatial or cultural limitation. Under all such circumstances and in the face of the incessantly growing challenges, the teaching community needs to be enriched with the modern techniques and the new development in the domain of teaching & learning as it can boost the creativity and resourcefulness of a teacher. The proposed training programme is an enthusiastic effort to provide the interested teachers a suitable platform to re-orient themselves with the latest development in the sphere of teaching and learning in Higher Education.
